Meet at 11am on the small square in front of the Neudorf market for the inauguration and at 6:30pm at the Indépendante bookshop (14 rte du Polygone) for a concert-reading organized by the audacious Aline

Monique Wittig, born on July 13, 1935 in Dannemarie (aut-Rhin) and died on January 3, 2003 in Tucson (USA), was a French novelist, philosopher, theorist and lesbian feminist activist. Her concept of the “heterosexual contract” had a major impact on feminist theory. Her literary work is characterized by a stylistic and semantic quest to overcome gender distinctions. Prix Médicis 1964 with L'Opoponax
